fanny Davenport to Get Sardou's New Play.

Mrs. Kendal, prim and matronly, at east a hundred leagues away from The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," opened very interesting programme at the Empire Theatre yesterday. She wore ple black plumed bonnet, a respectable ole air of benign sympathy with the ganized by Miss Emma Frohman, a arge-eyed young woman who wears he in thick festoons over her ears. kindergarten and philanthropic work."

Mrs. Kendal came to the city from the large and festive city of Trenton. She large and festive city of Trenton. large and festive city of Trenten. She said plenty of lovely things about kindergartens, and children who, in her opinion, were the rones of life. She also exhibited a very pretty little check for 100 which Mr. Kendal had just given her to present. She read a story called "Nobody," which was listened to in a sort of gloomy apathy, but Mrs. Kendal became quite sprightly after the story, and the audience was pleased with her. She told a beautiful and pathetic story, and the audience was pleased with her. She told a beautiful and pathetic story, and the audience was pleased with her. She told a beautiful and pathetic story, and the faunce was pleased with her. She told a beautiful and pathetic story, and the five was to preach in the twin cities of the West-Minneapolis and St. Paul. On one occasion, she said, an eminent divine was to preach in the most famous church of St. Paul, and a dense throng of people assembled to hear him. It was a memorable occasion, and the elite of the twin cities were present. The organ slowly pealed forth a solemn anthem; the crowd of men and women listened attentively to the soul-inspiring strains. Then the eminent divine walked to the puipit, ascended the steps in a slow and dignified manner. inspiring strains. Then the eminent di-vine walked to the pulpit, ascended the steps in a Slow and dignified manner, and a deep hush fell upon the audience. The minister began: "Dearly beloved brethren. I shall take my text from St. Paul." Instantly a man from Min-neapolis arose. "Great heavens!" he cried. "You are going to do that? Then I quit." . . .

The new play that Sardou is writing will be acquired by Miss Fanny Davenport for America in a very unusual way. She will pay several thousand dollars to the eminent playwright before she has even seen the scenario of the piece. At present she has absolutely no idea what the play will be about, aithough it is to be the great feature of her coming season. Yet the speculation is a safe one. A Sardou play rarely fails. This particular play will be produced almost simultaneously by Bernhardt in France and Davenport in America. Neither of the actresses in worrying herself very much about it. . .

"We had trouble enough getting the court dresses worn in 'Aristocracy,' said Charles Frohman yesterday, 'but in 'Utopia' all the chorus girls wear them. They are almost thrown at you." The presentation gowns worn in the Gilbert and Sullivan opera will set many foolish feminine hearts futtering. In "Aristocracy" they were considered a great feature, and in "The Guardsman,' presented last April at the Lyceum, Miss Maude Harrison wore one of them with much effect.

The members of D'Oyly Carte's company look upon Gilbert's text as a veritable classic. Those who had librettos Monday night were able to see that scarcely a word was changed—aithough there were a few omissions—and the merest exclamation was uttered. Gilbert never permits any gag or any suspicion of a gag. He looks upon himself as an up-to-date edition of Shakespeare, whose every word is precious. e every word is precious.

Herman Vezin, the well-known English actor, has made a brilliant suggestion to the effect that encores and recalls be forbidden by the County Council. He looks upon the encore as a most pernicious custom, but if he wants to see its full abuse he should come to New York. Here the encores on a first night have become one of the most intolerable nuisances. They have lost their original significance, and are simply prompted by a belief that the public will be guiled into believing that they are spontaneous outbursts. The spontaneous encore is a rarity nowadays.

The Tacoma gentleman, Col. W. J. Fife, is still undaunted. He is positively coming to New York to organize a company and startle the natives in the legitimate. He belongs to "the Fifes, of Tacoma, the elder of whom operated a store in Sheldon" years ago. They are said to be "strong in popularity, prestige and purse." It is undoubtedly the purse strength that will be most needed in will be most needed in the stage venture.

An entertainment will be given to-morrow afternoon at the Academy of Music by the Theatrical Mechanical Be-nevolent Association, which has a mem-bership of 370. Much good work has been done by this Association during the past year.

A well-known manager, who produced a play in this city the other day, was so confident of its success that he said to a friend: "l'li tell you what I'll do. Before the first performance, I'll write a criticism of the play, and seal it up. Then, when the papers come out Tuesday morning, I'll bet you that they will speak more glowingly of the performance than I do, although I am convinced of its success."
The criticism was written and sealed. The play was produced. In the Tuesday papers it was roasted to cinders, and knocked into fits. Slowly and sadly the manager opened his own criticism and tearfully he showed it to his friend. "The actors interpolated speeches," said he, "and things went wrong. Otherwise it would have been as I said." M' yes.

Mrs. D. P. Bowers has written an interesting article on Edwin Booth in The Californian Illustrated Magazine. She gives her own experience as a member of his company, and although she tells little that is new she is always entertaining. "I never met any one in my profession," writes Mrs. Bowers, "so senerous to his brother and sister artists in the matter of dramatic points as he. Mr. Booth was ever eager to see those with whom he was thrown have every opportunity to succeed, and a round of applause or a call before the curtain for another always seemed to be a source of genuine pleasure to him. He was entirely unselfish."

The picture of "Moses in the Bull-rushes," shown in the Kilanyi tableaux at the Garden Theatre, is not considered realistic enough by the "1492" management. They want a real baby instead of a painted one. "And why not?" declared one of Mr. Palmer's agents, "Why not? A real baby wouldn't keep quiet, you think. We have no objection to having it cry. The sudlence would like it. It would be an additional touch of realism. The painted baby is far too tame."

Miss Lillian Russell returned to the Casino last night with a very handsome revival of "Girofie-Girofia," in which she was recently seen at the Garden Theatre. Miss Russell was very warmly welcomed by a crowded house, and she was seen and heard at her best. Sig. Perugini was Marasquin, and Digby Bell was Don Bolero d'Alcarazas.

New delegates were admitted to the Miscellaneous Section of the Central Labor Union yesterday from Cloakmakers' Union No. 1 and Waiters' Aliance No. 9. The Section discussed the recolutions against the Rapid Transit plan of the Chamber of Commerce but took no action. The Arbitration Committee was instructed to visit the American Hiscuit Company whose managers refuse to recognise the newly organized Cracker Bakers' Union. The representatives of the International Bakers' Unions related their difficulties with the Independent and Bohemian Hakers' Unions whom they charged with cooperating with certain bosses. There was some discussion about the differences between the K of L. and International Cigar-Makers' Unions, but as the representatives of the latter were not present the matter was laid over for next week. It appears that the K. of L. cigar-makers are willing to join the Internationals and then there willing to join the Internationals and then there willing to join the Internationals.

Interesting Letter from Bicyclist Fred Titus, Dated Bermuda.

Harvard-Princeton-Yale Baseball Schedule.

Fred J. Titus, the well-known bicyclist of this city, is in Bermuda, from which place we has written the following inter-esting letter to a friend here:

"The day of March 16 was to the cyclist in Bermuda what the great Springfield, Mass., meet is to us. It was a gain day. Bermuda being an English colony, the people therefore looked forward to the 16th as a day in which an American would 'get his licks,' as they say. I had issued a challenge to the fastest rider in Hermuda to race one mile, offering t race was arranged for the championship one-mile events. and was placed at scratch, the limit man having 20 yards start. The affair was a decided success, the events all being well contested.

"I won the match race without any effort, beating the former champion by fully fifty yards. In the handicap I decided to show the Englishmen how Americans can ride. They had been sceptical concerning our abilities, and had made me the trunt of various mean criticisms. I rode from start to finish, caught the limit man before I had gone one-third of a mile and, keeping right on, won the race by about 500 yards and broke their time record by fifteen seconds, doing the mile in 2m. 18s. 1 believe this is also the world's record for a mile in competition."

(Sanger rode a mile in competition in 2.08 1-5 on Sept. 12 last.)

The Yale, Princeton and Pennsylvania baseball nines are getting some good practice during the Easter holidays, but Harvard is apparently doing nothing at least nothing is heard from the crimson team. Judging from exhibition games, the teams of the first three named colleges are stronger than usual, and are rather evenly matched. Princeton, if anything, has had a shade the best of it in games played. The Tigers, as a rule, show up well in practice games, and then have a habit of falling down when the real test comes. Perhaps, however, the success of the football team will be repeated. The Princetons will play here next Saturday with the New Yorks. The Pennsylvania team is not journeying about the country, but is getting more valuable practice than either of the other two by playing with the Philadelphia professionals.

In case of a tie between Harvard and Yale the deciding game will be played at New York on Saturday, June 30.

A prominent Minnesota jurist in an in-terview last night expressed his views on the question of prize-fights as follows: "Certain deluded sports of St. Paul, with a few dollars in their pockets and sev-eral thousands in their minds, have an-eral thousands in their minds, have an eral thousands in their minds, have announced that they are willing to make up a purse of $45,000 for the Corbett-Jackson fight. In spite of this, there will be no prize-fight in South St. Paul or any other part of Minnesota. There is no loophole in the law passed by the last Legislature, and if any attempt is made to bring off a contest at South St. Paul, Gov. Wilson will simply swamp the place with the State militia. Any attempt to pull off a fight between Corbett and Jackson anywhere in this State will certainly meet the fate of the Hall-Fitz-simmons affair July 21, 1891.

Davies denies that Jackson, as claimed by Corbett, should feel flattered by the notice taken of him by Corbett, and declares that all the colored man wishes is to have the fight come off in this country if possible, but in any place where a fair show will be given him. Davies asks Corbett to name a time when he can meet Jackson in a glove contest.

UNJUST TO MR. FLAMMER.

Tillie Dobler's Suit III-Advised and

Innecessary. An unintentional wrong was done John George Flammer on Satorday in the re-port of certain proceedings before Judge leaving an exacte of $9.50, which was claimed by each of inrec alleged widows. Mrs. Tillie Feltman Dobler, who claims to be the only legal widow, aptain documents which see claimed to have placed in his lands shortly after the death of Anton Dobler, who had been his client for many years. Five of the documents had been in his posses sion, two life insurance policies, two sion, two life insurance policies, two letters patent and a certificate of the birth of Franz Joseph Anton Dobler. Tillie's infani son, and a bond and mortgage on Dobler's property, which had been paid off.

One policy was in favor of Tillie Dobler and the child in the Ancient Order of United Workmen. It was contested, but on the decision of the Court of Appeals was paid. The other was in the Northwestern Masonic Ald Association in favor of Tillie's child, and it was paid after litigation. The letters patent were turned over to the executor's. The certificate of birth was filed and used in the trial of one of the insurance cases before Judge Truax.

On proof of all this Judge McAdam denled the motion of Tillie Dobler's lawyers except as to the paid-up bond and mortgage, of no value to any one, and it was cheerfully surrendered by Mr. Flammer to the clerk of the Superior Court.

By some error this mortgage was re-

Court.
By some error this mortgage was referred to on Saturday as having been in favor of Dobler. The statement that Mrs. Tillle Dobler had begun suit, through her lawyers, to recover property rights valued at $40,00 and $2,000 alleged to be excessive fees charged by Mr. Flammer while acting as Mrs. Dobler's counsel, seems to have been premature. No such suit has been brought.

brought.

In his decision Judge McAdam says Mr. Flammer has properly disposed of all the documents, and that "there is nothing in his conduct calling for censure, nor has he refused to do anything which he was in duty bound to do. This application was, in my judgment, ill-advised and unnecessary."

ICE TRUST FORMED.

Retail Dealers Combine to Advance Prices this Summer.

The ice dealers have formed a trust and propose to make New Yorkers pay 10 cents more a hundred for their ice during the coming Summer than they did last year. This is the outcome of a meeting of the retail ice dealers held last evening at the Grand Opera-House Hall.

The dealers say the advance must be made on account of the scarcity of ice. the amount required to supply New York, Jersey City and Brooklyn being 2,900,000 tons, while there are only 2,400,000 tons in sight in this vicinity, and the deficiency must be made up by im-portations from Maine.

"Jack," said I, "wouldn't you be better away from here? Come, you know what I mean. You're no great hand at a secret."

"But you're a true friend. It makes him in her toils and then turn him adrift with a laugh—that's what she secret."

"Oh, you'll soon forget it when you're need to get shad at a secret."

"Suddently he held out his hand.

"Shake hands, old man" he said.

I turnel round—and beheld my wife! the dog-cart, sir—it was at the door by what I shook hands. The poor fellow was a good deal moved, and I dela't wish to tore past Kitty and vanished through the open windows of the drawing-room.

I sank down in a chair. Presently the liebs out his hand.
